Freedom.

We have never been so impatient to return to it and enjoy it, together.

Noirmoutier Island has always, and perhaps more than elsewhere, cultivated freedom in its purest expression.

An insular state of mind which stands up against uniformity and celebrates all pleasures. Especially the simplest ones.

A freedom of movement, allowing barrier-free view of the whole scenery.

A freedom of the senses to admire, enjoy, explore, swim, sail, pedal.

A freedom of conscience, where everyone can enjoy the island in their own way, while respecting its natural wealth and its ecosystem, both so beautiful and so fragile.

A freedom with no time limit, to discover the island as the seasons go by. Sometimes mild, sometimes wild, when it returns to its tranquillity bathed in winter light.

A blue and salted freedom, to be fully enjoyed by sailing on one of the Atlantic's finest bays.

A rare, plural, welcoming freedom. As befits a territory of exception.

To freedom!

NOIRMOUTIER ISLAND.

Born more than 4,000 years ago from the encounter of granitic rocks and of a mixture of sand and silt floating a few kilometres from the Atlantic coasts, this island hides a singular history.

Right from prehistory, men settled on these fertile lands. As the centuries went by, Noirmoutier Island stood out as one of the cradles of salt production in France.

At that time, Noirmoutier Island was known by the name of Her. Over time and through shift in spoken language, "Her" turned into "Ner" and gave its name to Neri Monasterium - the monastery of Ner Island. A few centuries later, it became Noirmoustier, before losing its "s" with the advent of modern French. The multifaceted island had just been christened.

Whether you reach the island from the bridge with a magnificent vista, or from the Gois, the road under the sea, Noirmoutier Island leaves nobody indifferent.

Four municipalities, wild golden dunes on the ocean side, sandy coves on the bay side, and its patchwork heart dedicated to salt.

Noirmoutier Island also owes its charm, so peculiar, to its preserved architecture. Its whitewashed houses, so typical, featuring roofs with tige de botte (boot upper) half-round tiles and blue or grey shutters - painted with leftovers from the pots used for the fishing boats - have made a place for themselves in the collective imagination. And the inhabitants are determined at all costs to maintain this aestheticism.

Noirmoutier Island has the spirit of an artist, so infinite its colour palette seems to be. Oak forest with shades of green, steel blue water, fine sand with coppery reflections.

And also yellow shades, a lot of yellow, when the mimosa trees are in bloom. As a wink of nature, the tree has found in Noirmoutier, "the Mimosa Island", mildness suitable for its wonderful show: buds of gold as far as the eye can see during the winter months.

One thing is sure, Noirmoutier Island will know how to surprise you.

Intimist and authentic, Noirmoutier returns to its wild nature from the first days of autumn. The strokes of the wind in the hundred-year-old pines, the coming and going of the waves on the deserted beaches, the smell of the mimosa trees in bloom... A fine opportunity to get acquainted with the island at your own pace, far from the hubbub of summer, and better appreciate its treasures.

TAKING THE GOIS PASSAGE AT LOW TIDE

For a long time, in Noirmoutier, the whims of the tide dictated the arrival of travellers to the island. Taking the Gois Passage means reviving this magical tradition, watching the ocean make way to a submersible paved road, marked by the passing of time and of salt waters.

A moment of slow and poetical contemplation to start the holidays under the sign of slow travel.

LETTING THE WIND CARRY YOU IN YOUR SAND YACHT

When the tide turns back, the virgin and immaculate beaches of fine sand become a privileged playground to try your hands at sand yachting. Carried by the strength of the wind, new experience enthusiasts let themselves be invaded by a sensation of exhilarating freedom. An activity open to all, to get your fill of fresh air and happy memories.

The island of four seasons

From one season to the other, Noirmoutier offers a change of scenery. The island you think you know keeps changing over the months: in winter, its wild and preserved nature takes its course, while the mildness of spring reveals its thousand and one colours.

WATCH BIRDS IN THE MÜLLEMBOURG NATURE RESERVE

Travel to bird country. The Müllembourg nature reserve offers a unique and moving sight for all wild fauna enthusiasts. These 48 hectares have become, over the years, a shelter for hundreds of animal species.

Common shelduck, pied avocet, Kentish plover, common tern... During a playful stroll, learn to recognise these engaging birds with original names.

OFF ON A BIKE RIDE TO DISCOVER LE VIEIL

In Le Vieil, time seems suspended. This is a preserved village where the white houses of fishermen and farmers with their blue shutters, so typical, stand facing the ocean in an atmosphere full of peace.

Perched on a bike, you will be at the right height to move around its picturesque alleyways and, if you feel like it, pedal to other small hamlets, full of charm, which are the pride of the island: La Clère, La Madeleine, and then La Linière, beyond the abbey of La Blanche.

ENJOYING SHELLFISH AT THE HARBOUR OF LE BONHOMME

They can be enjoyed just out of water, flattering your taste buds with their delicate taste of the sea, accompanied with a glass of Muscadet (necessarily). The oyster and Noirmoutier Island have always shared a great gourmet history.

Renowned for the delicacy of their flesh and their fleshy aspect, perfectly balanced, they are on all island menus. It's in the harbour of Le Bonhomme that they can be enjoyed without fuss, sitting down at a table next to the oyster shacks.

Under the sun of the spring and summer months, Noirmoutier Island takes on a bright palette. Blue, green, gold, and flowers colouring the atmosphere with their joyful hues. A beauty you'll like sharing on a sea view terrace, at a picnic on the beach or during a guided tour to meet Noirmoutier talent.

GOING FOR A WALK BETWEEN SEA AND FOREST IN LES ELOUX WOOD

In Les Eloux Wood, the fine sand caresses the roots of maritime pines. This landscape, so singular, halfway between beach and forest, is a site protected on account of its natural wealth. This is also the island's highest point... Indeed, it peaks at 22 metres above sea level.

A sublime panorama where arbutus trees, shrubs, rose bushes and wild dog rose bushes follow one another before giving way to the open sea. Wander in Les Eloux Wood, you'll always find your way back: you only have to follow the delicate fragrance of the everlasting flowers, gradually giving way to the smell of sea spray.

STROLLING IN THE ISLAND STREETS TO MEET PASSIONATE CRAFTSMEN

Many talented craftsmen and creators have installed their workshops on Noirmoutier Island: traditional boat sails, jewels, soaps, prints, illustrations, knives... An ecosystem of passionate people working with their hands and creating unique objects, Made in Noirmoutier.

Souvenir gifts with a little extra soul to be admired in the shops of the four island municipalities. Feeling like exploring the universe of these craftsmen?

ADMIRING A COLOURFUL RAINBOW IN THE SALTERNS

On foot or by bike, the salterns are to be visited as a maze of colours and of green nature. On the island, some 3,000 salt pans, these small ponds of sea water bordered with wild grasses, serve as landmarks for thousands of birds and other wild species.

They also produce the island's true treasure: the white gold. A natural sea salt, hand harvested during the summer season, according to ancestral know-how passed on from one generation to another by the salt makers.

For the curious, guided tours are organised all summer long and in early autumn to discover the work of salt makers, their experienced gestures and their artisan tools.

Another must, a little stopover nearby the calorges (salt warehouses) bordering all the island roads. This is the guarantee to meet a salt maker and to learn more about his noble trade, before setting off again with your sachet of fleur de sel salt of exceptional quality.

AND RELAXATION AT LA CLERE BEACH

greatest delight of shellfish gathegreen crabs and the like.

sand and concealed by a wood of maritime pines, La Clère Beach offers a sublime scenery between land and ocean. It extends to Mardi Gras Beach, which was used as the set for the love story of Romy Schneider and Yves Montand.

An island and so many stories to be lived all year round. In a short film of a few minutes, Noirmoutier Island tells its story through both poetical and offbeat life scenes.

THE STAIRS UNDER THE SEA

You have to take some height to better appreciate all the magic of the Gois.

Here, the ocean retreats twice a day, at the rhythm of the tides, unveiling a submersible paved road. The only link between the island and the mainland for more than a century, the Gois has forged the semi-insular and nonconformist character of the island. To be discovered with rain boots or ballet shoes.

THE "NO" ATTITUDE

On Noirmoutier Island, the No is everywhere on display. This particular signature has its origin in the registration numbers of fishing and pleasure boats, many of which are today registered in the maritime district of the island.

Over the years, the No has also become the hallmark of the Noirmoutier inhabitants' mindset: daring to maintain their authenticity while living with the times.

HEADING FOR INDEPENDENCE

The holidays are a key element of youth. Spending your holidays on Noirmoutier Island means building up memories full of sharing and friendship around numerous water activities.

Light sailing boats, sailing dinghies, boards, water sliding sports, kitesurfing, stand up paddle boarding, kayaking, jet skiing, scuba diving, boat trips... In every corner of the island, there are a great many schools to discover or practise.

SALT IS GOLDEN

Colourful and sparkling mazes dedicated to the harvesting of white gold, the salterns send your senses on a journey.

Admiring, tasting, touching, smelling... A bike ride to explore this natural world, a world apart, the cradle of a thousand-year-old know-how, maintained by passionate salt makers.

INFINITE FREEDOM

A feeling of vastness on the long beaches of the island, gently sloping to an infinite ocean. A setting conducive to moments of reunion and lightness with those who are dear to us. Time has come to catch our breath and return to simple pleasures.

SIREN SONG

Another idea of partying. As soon as the night falls on the island, all you have to do is let yourself be carried away and experience a multifaceted nightlife, from restaurants to bars, including novel venues cultivating in-betweenness. With the ocean as a backdrop.

RÉGIS, WARDEN OF THE SEBASTOPOL POLDER NATURE RESERVE

"The reserve is a place somewhat out of time. It's first and foremost the natural habitat of thousands of birds that put up with the presence of men so long as it remains unobtrusive. Over twenty years, I have seen certain species repopulate thanks to the unique ecosystem of the Polder. This is very gratifying, even though these victories remain fragile."

The Sebastopol Polder. This German-sounding name designates a one-of-a-kind nature reserve which is classified: more than one hundred hectares of land claimed from the sea, which over time turned into a favourite place for water birds: Mediterranean gull, common and Sandwich terns, pied avocet...

210 bird species all together and a meeting place not to be missed by all fauna, flora and fine scenery lovers.

Peace and silence are called for to watch this little world without disturbing the well-being of its twofooted feathered inhabitants.

JULIEN, KITESURFING INSTRUCTOR IN BARBÂTRE

"This is an intense moment of freedom, of unplugging. You can abandon yourself to the elements without attempting to master them. In Noirmoutier more than elsewhere, you have this balance between adrenalin and safety. This is one of the best spots in France where to practise kitesurfing."

A little paradise for kitesurfers and windsurfers, Noirmoutier Island has many assets for water sports enthusiasts: long beaches of fine sand, shallow waters, wind blowing in every direction...

To the south of the island, the spots in the Gois and Barbâtre are especially well suited for you to tame your first waves thanks to weak water current. Those in Luzeronde and Les Sableaux, on the other hand, are better suited for kitesurfers with more technical practice.

ÉLISABETH, SALT MAKER IN L'ÉPINE

"I follow the pace of nature: in winter, I prepare my saltern. In summer, I harvest the salt by hand using my wooden tools, the same as those used by the monks more than one thousand years ago. I'm very lucky to live and work in this exceptional setting. By becoming a salt maker, when I retrained, I completely changed my life."

The history of Noirmoutier Island is intimately linked to that of sea salt. For 1,300 years, the Noirmoutier inhabitants have been producing the white gold by hand, according to an artisanal know-how several centuries old, inherited from the monks of the Abbey of Saint-Philibert de Noirmoutier.

Even though the exploitation of the salterns was on the brink of dying out in the Seventies, it was saved by a rebound of the island salt makers who joined forces to set up a cooperative around values of mutual aid and fair compensation.

Every summer, you can go and meet the salt makers through visits open to all that tell the story of the natural and historical heritage of the salterns. An unforgettable encounter with the history of Noirmoutier.

LA MARINE

or laid-back bistros.

NOIRMOUTIER ON BIG SCREEN

Writers, filmmakers or musicians, many are the artists who have been inspired by the natural poetry of Noirmoutier Island.

CÉSAR AND ROSALIE, LOVE STORY AT MARDI GRAS BEACH

In 1972, Mardi Gras Beach was used as the set for the mythical film by Claude Sautet, César and Rosalie. A love triangle between Romy Schneider, Yves Montand and Sami Frey on a backdrop of white sand and sea cottages with blue shutters, still visible today on a stroll in the vicinity of Le Vieil.

VIANNEY OFF LE PILIER ISLET

It's aboard a small boat between the harbour of L'Herbaudière and Le Pilier Islet that the singer Vianney shot the video clip for his latest song hit, "Beau Papa" [Stepdaddy]. To the rhythm of the ocean, the scenes follow each other to depict the story, full of tenderness, of a young girl and her stepdad over the years.

NICHOLAS ON HOLIDAY AT LES DAMES BEACH

In this film adaptation of the famous comic book series by Sempé and Goscinny, Kad Merad, Valérie Lemercier and their son Mathéo Boisselier spend their holidays at Les Dames Beach in Noirmoutier-en-l'Île. Laurent Tirard changed the look of this iconic beach to recreate the atmosphere of a seaside resort in the Sixties.

AGNES VARDA AND THE NOIRMOUTIER WIDOWS

In 2006, Agnès Varda filmed moments in the lives of women of every age, very different in profile and physical appearance. Their common point? Assumed and respected widowing on Noirmoutier Island. A patchwork of emotions, feelings and memories captured by Agnès Varda's authentic and formal directing.

AUGUSTE RENOIR PAINTS THE COLOURS OF THE ISLAND

At the dawn of Summer 1892, Noirmoutier Island became the muse of Renoir who set up his easel in the Bois de la Chaise wood. He revisited the curves of the trees, retranscribed all the hues of green and found inspiration in the undulation of the waves to depict the variety of the island's scenery. True masterpieces illustrating the immense talent of the painter.

THE PEOPLE OF THE SEA AND THEIR GONCOURT PRIZE

At the turn of the 20th century, the writer Marc Elder depicted with subtlety the lives of the Noirmoutier inhabitants. A novel where the spirit of the insular Vendée and its inner conflicts were laid bare, through the emblematic figures of the island fisherman, shopkeeper or prominent citizen. A literary and popular fresco told with talent and awarded the Goncourt prize in 1913.

THE ELECTRO ARTIST THYLACINE SURF SKATES ON THE GOIS

The star of the French electro scene Thylacine surf skates on the Gois in his video clip Olatu. An aerial and poetic piece that takes on special resonance in this unique scenery, when the ocean gently regains ground. The perfect soundtrack to accompany a beautiful moment of contemplation at the rising tide.

A THOUSAND LANDSCAPES

White sand beaches, pinewoods, dunes and salterns... The landscapes of Noirmoutier Island follow each other, but are not alike. Each getaway is a surprise, in this preserved nature which everyone can explore in his or her own way: on foot, by bike or by boat. Here's an overview of the most beautiful panoramas of the island.

WITH YOUR DOG ON THE BEAUTIFUL BEACH OF LUZERONDE

Bordered by the dunes and the wood of Luzeronde, this long wild beach of fine sand is bathed in sunlight all day, from sunrise to sunset.

A privileged spot to make the most of the seaside on an early morning jog or an evening stroll, accompanied by a faithful four-legged companion all too happy to be able to romp in the open air.

PADDLE BOARDING FROM LES SABLEAUX BEACH TO L'ANSE ROUGE BEACH

An outing just above water to discover the beauties of the north of the island from a new angle. The stand up paddle board slides on the water. The wild beaches, green woods and sublime villas sail past at a slow pace conducive to contemplation.

This unfamiliar ride goes along the Bois de la Chaise wood in the direction of the cove of L'Anse Rouge and its famous Plantier tower, and then heads for Les Souzeaux Beach.

On the way, you sometimes come across a few shellfish gatherers taking advantage of the low tide to collect oysters, cockles, shrimps, clams and winkles. A little further away, the village of Le Vieil and its picturesque streets stand in the background.

ON A BIKE IN THE SALTERNS OF L'EPINE

Between beaches and salterns, L'Epine hides a true natural and human heritage. By bike or on foot, you only have to go along the salterns to have an encounter with salt makers happy to share the secrets of their know-how.

This stroll in the sea air takes you rapidly to the harbour of Le Bonhomme, where the oyster shacks are open to all for a tasting of seafood just out of the water.

Then, you can head for the wood of Les Eloux, half beach and half forest, in the wake of the Morin harbour which has lost nothing of its historic charm. There, pleasure boats, water sports enthusiasts and fishermen gather together to share their love of the ocean.

ON FOOT IN THE DUNES, NEAR THE WINDMILLS OF LA GUERINIERE

La Guérinière, where the paths grow deeper between the dunes and golden lowlands. Bordered with low-lying plants, its landscapes would almost be reminiscent of the Mediterranean.

There's also the landmark of the windmills. These long-armed giants, strewn on the grey dune, overlook the beach. Romantic remnants of the time when La Guérinière, particularly exposed to the wind, was the favourite place for grain grinding on the island.

A timeless stroll, barefoot in the warm sand.

WITH YOUR BINOCULARS IN THE SEBASTOPOL POLDER IN BARBÂTRE

To find the Sebastopol Polder, you almost only have to let you be guided by the songs of the thousands of birds that populate its land and water habitats.

The pied avocet, black-winged stilt, common redshank and hundreds of other breeding birds share 132 hectares of a protected wild and generous nature.

This piece of land reclaimed from the ocean makes nature lovers happy as they marvel at this rare sight, punctuated by the graceful flight of multicoloured butterflies and the song of birds.

KITESURFING IN BOURGNEUF BAY

You can let yourself be carried away by the wind and feast your eyes on Bourgneuf Bay, a natural basin prized by water sports enthusiasts.

A calm sea, weak water current, immense lagoon... The bay is an ideal spot-one of France's best-to climb on the board under the watchful eyes of passionate instructors, accustomed to accompanying kitesurfing beginners and enthusiasts.

ON A STROLL IN THE HISTORIC HEART OF NOIRMOUTIER-EN-L'ÎLE

Noirmoutier-en-l'île, a town steeped in history, as is testified by its paved alleys, its buildings and its emblematic monuments such as the castle, the Jacobsen Mansion and Saint-Philibert Church.

It's in Noirmoutier-en-l'île that many bars restaurants and shops of all kinds are intertwined. A concentrate of life and creativity worth exploring.

After a drink at a terrace, a must-do detour through the town hall square, the Banzeau historic district and the harbour of Noirmoutier- en-l'Île. Places full of charm to see and see again.

ON BOAT FROM L'HERBAUDIERE TO LE PILIER ISLET

Monastery, privateers' den and refuge for soldiers: Le Pilier Islet accommodated many freedmen throughout its long history. A boat trip is required to cross the small stretch of ocean separating Noirmoutier Island from this one-of-a-kind historic site, perched on a rocky islet.

A little "end of the world", it harbours a semaphore and two period lighthouses, along with a multitude of birds that today reign as the sole masters of the islet.

Le Pilier Islet is to be admired from afar, from a boat at anchor, to respect its nature reserve now protected by the Conservatoire du Littoral (coastal protection agency).

LIVING LIKE A LORD

Built in the late 12th century, the medieval castle of Noirmoutier-en-l'île is one of the best preserved in Western France.

Listed as a Historical Monument, its collections are constantly rearranged and it hosts a new temporary exhibition every year.

Dare climb up to the castle keep, it offers a breathtaking panoramic view of the island!

9 allée de Chaillot - 85330 NOIRMOUTIER-EN-L'ÎLE Tel: 02 51 68 41 81 contact@villa-arthusbertrand.com - www.villa-arthusbertrand.com

You will at once fall under the spell of the Arthus-Bertrand Villa, just as spellbinding as the island. Fully renovated, this former palm grove turned into a mansion house and then a hotel will accommodate you, your family and friends, in an exceptional setting, in the heart of the Bois de la Chaise wood. From the first glance, you will be charmed by the large wooded park whose beauties will enchant your stay. The large reception rooms, the restaurant and the library thus open on a huge sunny terrace where it's nice to meet up in the shade of parasols. The swimming pool, the Japanese lodge and the resting corners have as decor the century-old palm trees and holm oaks whose welcome shade delicately protects from the hot Vendean sun. It's in the peace and quiet of this garden that you will enjoy rare and precious moments of relaxation. In a harmoniously revisited Victorian style, the mansion house bears testimony to the family past as publishers of travel books since 1797. The passion for the sea and navy can be read in the very neat decoration of the eighteen large bedrooms.

Featuring its own restaurant, the Arthus-Bertrand Villa offers you to discover simple and tasty dishes cooked by our chef who draws inspiration for his local and Vendean cuisine from the market stalls, with the island's fishermen and market gardeners. Once passed the gates of the Villa, you will immediately be enchanted by the atmosphere of the place -warm, convivial, serene, restful-and you will not feel like leaving..
